CASE STUDY:

HEATH ROAD WILDERNESS AREA

PROJECT OVERVIEW.

This project was undertaken for a local land developer as part of a wider housing development in Heath and Reach.

OUR SCOPE.

The scope of the project, was to provide an area of wilderness for local residents to enjoy and for wildlife to thrive.

As part of the work we formed and installed 1.5km of pathways alongside preparing ground and spreading over 20,000m2 of grass seed.

The site was subject to scrutiny due to the discovery of Great Crested Newts at inception. The site also was home to several active badgers setts, which required great care when working.

THE OUTCOME.

Working over a 28 week period we completed the project which also included the supply and install of a variety of fencing including knee rail and estate-style.

The result of this project was the successful creation of a beautiful wildlife area for local residents to enjoy which has an abundance of native and ornamental shrubs and plants.
