CASE STUDY:
INFINITY
HOUSE
SITE
CLEARANCE

PROJECT OVERVIEW.

Working for a commercial
client to clear
a large,
partially derelict
industrial warehouse
prior to sale.

OUR SCOPE.

Infinity House is a large industrial unit which was home to a now
defunct polystyrene
manufacturer.

On behalf of our client
we wer tasked with removing tonnes of waste, including
polystyrene, office
furniture and and a
disused oil tank.

THE OUTCOME.

This was a complex project which required careful planning and scheduling to ensure the unit could be cleared safely and that all waste was recycled or reused where possible.

We completed this project to a very tight, client-imposed deadline.
On time and under budget.
